

Horoscopes...What's in your future???

Aries: If you've got the ball, you might as well head for the goal line. Just don't drop it on the way -- you never know who's going to sneak up from behind and steal your only chance at making the big play.

Taurus: Things may not have worked out last time, but you've got a second chance to make up for it. Take it slow at first. Don't rush in without a clear head. You can do this if you're smart about it.

Gemini: It's a slippery slope when you start talking behind your friends' backs. Don't turn into the kind of snake that you despise. Unless you watch your tongue, you'll soon start hearing the collective hisses of those around you.

Cancer: All it takes are a few innocent words to set off fireworks. You're surrounded by sensitive ears that aren't used to your style of humor. If it's just a joke, make sure they know it. It's harder than you think to undo what's been said.

Leo: You've had the spotlight on you for a while. Don't forget that some of those around you have been waiting patiently for their turn. Step aside and let someone else take the stage.

Virgo: Why always so cynical? Your doomsday theories just aren't panning out. Snap out of your skeptical ways and start getting real. There's plenty of fun to be had if you just loosen up and let yourself have a good time.

Libra: Certain memories have left you with a longing for the better days. Give yourself some credit, though. You've come a long way and you've got lots to look forward to. Don't give up hope!

Scorpio: Motivated doesn't even begin to describe you. You've been working like a dog. People are noticing that you're solid as a rock and you get the job done. Keep it up. You'll soon be rewarded for going that extra mile.

Sagittarius: So many decisions to make! The toughest one of all is whether to spend your dough in the first place. Don't forget the big picture and what really matters. You may need those pennies after all.

Capricorn: You can count on your friends. You've been there when they needed you, and they will be there to bail you out. What comes around goes around. Take advantage of your safety net.

Aquarius: Heading nowhere? You've been walking in circles all day long. Take your mind off of some of the problems nipping at your conscience. Pick a point in the distance and head toward it. You'll be able to straighten some things out once you get moving.

Pisces: Sometimes the best way to be a good friend is to let your friends just do their own thing. Everyone needs to find their own way -- for better or worse. Step back and let them take a few steps on their own.
