Ask Audrey

Dear Audrey,
A friend asked me if I would give him my assignment so he could copy it. I gave it to him, the teacher found out and we both got a zero. I feel sick about it. What should I do?

Found Guilty

Dear Found Guilty,

I've seen this happen lots of times. What I would do in this situation is to tell the teachers that you're sorry for what you did. Don't be surprised if they don't trust you as much as they used to. The next times someone asks if they can copy your work just say no or say that you haven't done that assignment. Hope this helps!

Love Always,
Audrey
