The Conference Art Show hit off with a good day last Friday and continued into Saturday. The whole turnout was good for this 25th conference art fair, and it was also well attended.

There was lots of outstanding artwork in the gym. Seventeen different art categories were displayed. Not only did MV display their artwork, but nine different school around here also brought in their art work and represented. The strongest categories were sculpture and pencil drawing.

First place awards went to Angie Peters-alligator sculpture, Jake Norlin-chalk drawing, and John Eiben-ink drawing Second place awards went to Kristi Nurre-painting, Justin McMurrin-charcoal drawing.

Third place awards went to Eric Fonck-chalk drawing, Chelsea Rassmussen-drawing, and Tristan Miles-wood carving.

That day they raised over $500 selling art projects at the Dollars for Scholars auction. The money will go to seniors scholarships.

Mr. Seibert commented, "It was very well attended. Lots of positive comments were given."

He also said that "It was a real honor to host the show again." Even though this will be his last, I'm sure that the art shows will be just as great for years to come.

Congratulations to all who received awards and thanks to all who participated!
