Time and again, I catch myself using the excuse “this is such a busy time of the year” when trying to justify something I had intended to do but didn’t follow through. Face it: it is ALWAYS a busy time of year so when it comes to prioritizing, it is not about finding time but making time.

I can think of fewer priorities for a parent than that of your child’s education. Your attitude about your child’s success in school will be reflected in your child’s attitude about school. When you make time to ask your child questions about his or her daily student life, keep up with your child’s academic performance online, interact with their educators, and attend parent-teacher conferences, you send a message to your child that his or her success is highly valued. And when you convey value, you encourage pride in performance and instill a lifelong love of learning. When you show that you value education and academic success, it becomes a priority and not an option.

Imagine your child’s education as a tangible asset such as a car or cell phone. I am certain that it matters to you whether your child treats these material items with great care. Though intangible, your child’s education is no less important but has far-reaching consequences if a sense of responsibility and value is cultivated. It is up to you as the parent to demonstrate to your student that attention to education matters. It is up to you to model a positive attitude about academics and it does not matter which direction your child intends to follow after the high school years come to an end. Whether one enters a two or four year college, the military, or the workforce, when a parent shows an interest in their child’s learning, they let him or her know that learning is lifelong. Express interest and curiosity about your student’s performance and you will instill a similar attitude in your child. Make time to interact and connect with your child and our educators: it’s not about finding the time but making the time to make a vital difference in the course of your child’s life.

Go Wildcats!

GRANDPARENTS and SPECIAL FRIENDS:

Thank you to all of our grandparents and special friends for spending some time with us - We love having you visit our schools!!

Don't Toss 'Em... Clip 'Em!

that collects Box Tops for Education. Box Tops for Education is one of the largest school earnings loyalty programs in the United States. For each Box Top that is donated, Maquoketa Valley receives 10 cents. MV can then use this money to buy whatever is needed for our school. It's easy to find Box Tops. In fact, you may have some in your home right now. Box Tops are found on hundreds of your favorite products—including paper products and school supplies! Just look for the Box Tops for Education symbol and cut it out. Maquoketa Valley collects Box Tops all year long. Simply send them to school with your child to give to their classroom teacher. Once the Box Tops are collected at Maquoketa Valley, they are counted and submitted. Box Tops earnings are then sent out to MV twice a year—once in December and once in April. This is a great way for our school to earn extra money and it's so easy. Clip some Box Tops and turn them into our school today! For more information about Box Tops for Education and a full list of participating products, visit www.boxtops4education.com. Maquoketa Valley appreciates your support!

Preschool

In preschool we are currently studying friends and feelings. Thus far, we have discussed what characteristics make a good friend and how to create a lasting friendship. As a class we have discussed different emotions and feelings that we experience. We've also discussed how it's all right to have different feeling as long as we handle those emotions in an appropriate manner. To remind students how to handle our emotions we read Tucker The Turtle Tucks Inside. This story illustrates how to handle anger by taking three deep breathes, calming down, and then consulting the classroom "solution kit book." A lot of the preschool students are starting to understand there are several solutions to a problem when playing with our friends, we can share, trade, set a timer, or take turns. We will continue to review emotions and feelings throughout the school year.

Ms. Keltner - Preschool

We Are Third Grade!

It's been a wonderful and busy start to the school year. We've discovered that three classes of 3rd grade all under the same roof equals three times the number of friends and fun together! We've enjoyed getting to know each other through a variety of "mixers". One of our most daring activities involved the "Circle of Human Chairs". Each student acted as a chair and supported the person in front while sitting on the lap of the child behind. It took three tries filled with laughter and encouragement before we reached our goal!

In math we've analyzed data from a variety of tables and graphs, and are reviewing addition, subtraction, rounding, and estimation strategies. Our literacy block has focused on summarizing, drawing conclusions, and evaluating character traits. We've applied these skills with literacy iPad apps such as ChatterPix and QR Readers. Experiments with forces and motion have been our theme in Science, and we're learning to be better map readers in Social Studies. Our days are packed full with lots of learning!

Volunteers Welcome

National Honor Society

National Honor Society (NHS) is a privilege students have the opportunity to earn when they excel in the areas of academics, character, leadership, and service. Once inducted into National Honor Society, the students work at various service projects to help out the school and community. Some service projects they have arranged in the past include a blood drive in the spring, and a bake sale at the basketball "Pink Out" game to help raise money towards breast cancer awareness and research.

In order to become eligible as a member of this elite group, students must maintain a GPA of 3.5. From there, they submit an application that includes their leadership experiences, extra-curricular activities, work experiences, and an essay explaining what being a member of the National Honor Society means to them. They will also fill out a community service verification form.

From here, the faculty reviews the applications and scores them using a rubric. If students receive an average of 3.5 overall, they are inducted into the National Honor Society. NHS is a wonderful group to be a member of, and I encourage all students to try and meet the requirements, so they too can become members of NHS.

ACT TESTING

Registration

Iowa colleges prefer students submit an ACT score upon applying for admission. The SAT may be required by out-of-state colleges.

It is recommended that students planning to attend a vocational, two-year, or four-year college take the ACT or SAT during the spring of their junior year. Students may take tests on any of the nationally scheduled dates and may retest as often as they choose. It takes approximately four weeks for test results to be received in the Career/College Center.

Test registration forms and information about which test colleges prefer are available in the Career/College Center. Students are to complete registration forms directly with the testing company. The Maquoketa Valley High School code or CEEB code is 161-143.

Preparation

Students preparing for an admissions test should:

1. Select high school courses that include the recommended core curriculum: 4 units of English, 3 units of math (Algebra, Geometry, and Advanced Algebra), 3 units of social studies, 2 units of science (one must be a laboratory course), 1 unit of fine arts, and 3 additional units of any courses previously listed or foreign language (2 units strongly recommended).
2. Study the current and descriptive preparation materials, including the practice test published by ACT or SAT available free of charge in the Career/College Center.
3. Explore the test preparation materials available in the school and public libraries and in book stores.
4. Review areas where the practice test showed a weakness.
5. Enlist the help of teachers in those areas to answer questions and clarify concepts. (Consider making an appointment before or after school to work with a teacher.)
6. Retest if, after taking the test the first time, you found you were not familiar or comfortable with the test procedures, or if your score was lower than your reasonable expectations.
7. Juniors can prepare for the SAT by taking the Preliminary SAT (PSAT) which is the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test.

2016-2017 TEST SCHEDULE

PSAT/NMSQT

The Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT) will be given on Wednesday, October 19, 2016. The cost is $15. Juniors wanting to prepare for the SAT and interested in the National Merit Scholarship competition must take the PSAT/NMSQT.

ACT

The ACT is given on the dates listed below. Maquoketa Valley High School is a test center for the April test date. The regular registration cost is $39.50 without the Writing Test or $56.50 with the Writing Test. Late registration is an additional $25. Registration may be done online at www.actstudent.org.

Before registering for the ACT, students can find out specific colleges' requirements regarding the Writing Test by visiting www.actstudent.org. The website features a searchable list of colleges and their Writing Test decisions. While at the website, students can take advantage of test prep aids, including free sample test questions at www.actstudent.org/testprep/. Test day tips, a list of items to bring to the test and details on what type of calculator you can use on the Math Test can also be found on the website.

Parents: A unique, life-changing idea for your lunch break

What makes your lunch break really great? A delicious sandwich or accomplishing your to-do list? What about making a young kid smile and feel valued? That's what you can do with your lunch hour once a week this next year by becoming a mentor.

When you sign up to volunteer with Mentoring Connection for Delaware County's lunch-time program, you will be matched with an elementary school student. One hour each week you will eat lunch together and spend the remainder of your time tackling school work, doing a fun activity, or just sitting and talking.

Getting involved has some very satisfying benefits for you and the mentee. As a mentor, you play an active role in positively influencing a young person's development. It has been shown that a child who has a mentor has improved school attendance, develops positive habits that lead to success (not only in school but in life), has a higher self-esteem, and has a more positive attitude in general. You are the reasons these favorable changes happen, just because you took an hour out of your week to eat lunch with a kid.

Ellen Krogmann, the mentoring coordinator, is ready to answer your questions, calm your nerves, and convince you that you'll be a great mentor. Contact her at (563) 379-3454 or ekrogmann@helpingservices.org. Find out more about the program and see what Youth Mentoring is up to by visiting our website, www.helpingservices.org/mentoring, or Facebook page.

Mentors Needed for Fall After School Mentoring Program!

As a high schooler, you define what's cool and acceptable. You're what every elementary student wants to be like. And because of this status, you can be the highlight of a kid's day, every week. How? Become a mentor, and take one hour a week to hang out with a young student after school this next year.

"I am so excited about going to school on Wednesday's because I know that after school, I get to see my mentor and we get to do fun things together!"

How does it work?

1. Text "mentor" to 41444 to get an application to complete. Ellen, the Youth Mentoring coordinator at Helping Services, will connect you with a youth, age 7 to 13.
2. You'll get a bit of training and conversations ideas from Ellen throughout the year to help you help your mentee.
3. One hour each week you will meet together after school in the West Delaware Lambert Elementary School lunchroom. During that time you can do whatever you two choose, such as play board games, do a craft, work on a mentee's school assignment, or play on the playground.

Currently, 7 young students are waiting for a mentor in your school district! You can be that positive adult role model they look up to. Studies show that a child who has a mentor:

- improves school attendance
- develops positive habits that lead to success not only in school but in life
- has a higher self-esteem and a more positive attitude
- enriches relationships with other family members
- enhances attitude towards school
- is less likely to use alcohol, tobacco, and other drugs
- experiences a decrease in negative behavior

Every child needs a caring and supportive adult in his or her life. Take one hour each week this 2016-2017 school year to be a unique role model for someone. You'll reward yourself by investing in someone else. Guaranteed. For more information call (563) 379-3454, visit our website at www.helpingservices.org/mentoring, or find us on Facebook.
